NEW HARBOR.

The project of building a railroad from Stoughton through Brockton, Abington, Rockland and South Weymouth, to connect with the Nantuxet beach railroad at Hingham, is again being agitated, and a meeting was held at Brockton Monday, to consider the matter.

The route spoken of are anxiously counted on to pass from Old Colony House station through Hingham Center, West and South Weymouth, to the Haverhill Branch, three miles east of Brockton, thence to North Abington, Abington, and South Abington, Brockton, etc.

The sentiment of one of the speakers at the Brockton meeting was strongly in favor of the project, but with the local policy of that corporation toward the new city, the second track being laid to that point, and the general disposition of the management to meet all demands for increased passenger and freight facilities on their line, the movement for a new road which the speaker stated would compete with the Old Colony, will be long time in maturing. An enthusiastic supporter of the movement alluded to the importance of the harbor of Hull as a place for vessels to discharge freight for the towns on the route, but as every place save South Weymouth is now well furnished with railroad facilities from Boston over the O. C. & N. H., we fail to discern the effectiveness of this new proposal. The same speaker said that he favored a connection with the New York and New England, one reason for his preference being the much shorter route to the latter city, and the fact that the latter city is much more centrally situated than the Providence. If such a road should be built as was proposed, he predicted that within five years a line to connect with it would be constructed from New Bedford, through Middleboro, Bridgewater and West Bridgewater to Brockton, and thence to Boston, with a branch from Bridgewater to Taunton, in which city, as in New Bedford, he claimed, there would be a large manufacturing center.

While backing his horse he accidentally hit his balance and fell overboard. After being assisted from the water he walked to his home in East Weymouth, donned a dry suit, and then returned for his dry suit.

Mr. Nathaniel Richards had his old family horse killed last Saturday. The horse was thought to be 25 years of age.

Mr. Chas. S. Richards has been confined to his home for a week or more, threatened with a fever, but is out again.

Miss Lillie Wheeler, who has been visiting at Mr. A. K. Bunker's, was surprised last Monday evening by friends from Boston and New York, who had been invited to her birthday. She was presented with several valuable presents.

THE HOLIDAY SEASON.

We are now in the full tide of the holiday season and the streets on which are so many of the stores of all kinds are very uncongenially crowded from early in the forenoon until evening. Everything in the way of gifts, the useful and the ornamental, and those which are neither, is on an extravagant scale, more so than ever before, and the person of moderate means, not withstanding the abundance of goods, is puzzled in what to buy. Most of the stores have been compelled to take in extra forces of clerks, especially those at which we found what are known as "funny goods," in fact within a few years deniers in every line stock up pretty largely with goods especially intended for sale between the middle of December and the first of January.

We don't know why it is that an article is more highly prized if received on Christmas or on the first day of a new year, than if it be for the fact that there is scarcely an article on which would give for a present that cannot be bought for less than four weeks from today than it would cost now. Well, the holiday season makes business lively, it affords employment for a few days to many who may much need it, and some of the gifts are at least presented in all cheerfulness, though those who are not by any means always the most costly.

In reference to the advertising column of our paper, it will be found evident that everything in the line of holiday goods can be obtained in town, thus avoiding the crowd in city stores. Mr. F. A. Sullivan, of his store on Lincoln square, carries a variety of useful and fancy articles for ladies, gents and children which all will do well to examine. Mr. E. Pray has a fine lot of fancy slippers, at low prices. Messrs. E. H. Pray and Garvin, Tinsmiths, jewellers, show a profusion of elegant jewelry. Messrs. Alfred W. Thomas and H. F. Smith, druggists, present an endless variety of fancy goods. At South Weymouth, the dry goods and furnishing store of Timothy Smith is richly ornamented with holiday wares. At East Weymouth, the store of J. Gould has a fine assortment of pictures and many articles of art and fancy, and Frank V. Gay, druggist, has a rare assortment of all articles needed for presents.

GOING TO REST.

MRS. E. J. JON, died Dec. 15, 1882. Gone to rest, aged 62 years.

In the fall of the year, David, being earth's joy and sorrow— Freed from all its strife.

Loving wife, and tender mother, True and constant friend; Thou hast wrought a threefold mission, Faithful to the end.

We shall miss thy kindly presence In the house of God; We shall miss thy gentle voice, Where thy feet have trod.

And the voice of kindly greeting, Which we loved to hear, Nevermore along life's journey, Will salute the ear.

Fare thee well, oh, friend beloved! None thy place can fill; Yet within the hearts that prize thee, Thou art living still.

Not as those bereft of memory, Whom we mourn to find; Spirit voices seem to whisper— "Cast thy fears away."

"He who found the soul immortal Knows what life is best; You must have life's burden lighter— She has gone to rest!"

South Weymouth. L. E. BROWN.

Taking things easy.

Rev. Dr. Jones, who was well known to some of our readers, and who died recently at an advanced age, was noted for his coolness under most trying circumstances and his imperviousness against all shafts of malice or discontent which might be hurled against him. In the latter years of his ministerial life, a somewhat fractious deacon met a mutual friend one Monday morning, and freely unburdened his mind by saying that the Dr. had given them two wretched sermons Sunday— "boiling hot milk and water," as he expressed it. Soon after the Dr. happened to be present, and inquired concerning the health of the deacon, who was in a state of confusion, and had preached two splendid sermons the previous day. "But," said the friend, "your deacon was just now complaining of those sermons, and called them 'boiling milk and water.' He said most serious accents and gravest manner the Dr. rejoined, 'The deacon is right, all right, much to the amusement of his friend.'

The discontent which had revealed for some time finally culminated in an attempt by the deacon and a few other members of the church to eject the pastor, and they accordingly sent him a letter asking him to resign his charge. The Dr. received the letter with his usual composure and sent a reply that he would comply with the request, "if prayers will prevail in the Baptist church, Weymouth, next Sunday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock."

Funeral Services. Were held in the Catholic church at the residence of the late Mr. John Dwyer, a large concourse of friends attending. Mrs. Dwyer was a sister of Mr. James Moore, and Mrs. Edward Nolan, of South Weymouth, and her loss is deeply felt by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. She leaves nine children.

Charles Clark, driver for Baker Hedges, and son of Henry Clark, is dangerously sick with typhoid fever, at the home of his parents in this village. Dr. Forsyth is in attendance.

The Putnam. Rev. Mr. Astle, formerly pastor of the church in West Weymouth and who has been several years in the ministry, is leaving for his home in the Baptist church, Weymouth, next Sunday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock.

St. Peter. Steamer No. 1 was taken to East Weymouth last Saturday, to till the reservoir on Cottage street, which was emptied at the time of the recent fire in the Catholic parish house.

Housebreaking. Last Monday Mr. E. C. Hampus visited his home on Weymouth street, which has been closed for the winter, Judge Hampus with his family, boarding at the Robert House, Quincy, and entering the house he found the articles which had been taken from the house in the greatest confusion, every room having been ransacked. Some of the bedding was missing, and also two screws belonging to Mr. Hampus, which he valued highly in the army, and which he valued very highly.

Road View. The County Commissioners viewed the proposed route of a new road from South Weymouth to connect with Federal street, near S. W. and E. Nash's factory, and gave hearing to parties interested, at the said factory. No opposition was manifested, and further action will be taken by the board at Dedham. The route is to be soon surveyed by Quincy L. Reed.

Bandaid. George Ford has made a very creditable move this week, in covering the ice on the sidewalks with a good coating of sand, making the walking excellent. The boys, who use the walks for a coasting place, must seek other grounds for their sport.

Buckley's Arctic Voyage. The "Arctic" sailed for the world for Cuba, Brazil, Japan, South Africa, St. Helena, Cape Town, and other ports, under the command of Captain Buckley, on Monday, Dec. 11, at 10 o'clock.

Premature gravities appeared by using Parker's Hair Balsam, distinguished for its cleanliness and perfume.

LOCAL TOPICS.

Village Cemetery Fair.

The rain storm Wednesday evening reduced the snow to a condition of slush, and made the walking so poor that but few people visited the fair in aid of the improvement of the Village Cemetery, and owing to the small attendance the entertainment provided for that evening was omitted and deferred until Saturday evening, the committee having decided to continue the fair another evening. The auction sale of articles unsold will also take place Saturday evening, but the supper and entertainment will be given Friday evening, as previously announced.

The hall presents a very picturesque appearance, four long tables being well filled with useful and ornamental articles, aprons, afghans, bedspreads, pillow cases, dolls, etc., being flanked with toys, dolls, etc. A confederate table displays a multitude of goods, furnished by the liberalists of Messrs. Hunt & Co., Wm. Howditch, Bryant and Bailey, Alfred Wyman, and D. N. Putney. A china table is in charge of Miss Nellie Woster and Phoebe Walsh, and the flower stand is presided over by Miss Annie Loxe and Emma Clapp.

Fair weather on Thursday evening brought out a good attendance, and the entertainment for that evening was of much interest.

The first number was a vocal solo by Miss S. W. French. Then came a chorale in three parts, entitled, "Reflection," by Miss Emma Clapp and Charles Robinson. Messrs. Lyman Williams and Chas. Porter, readings from Hamlet and Richard III. by Mr. J. W. French. Then a vocal solo by Miss Margaret Pierce, "The Clerk," by Miss Marie Loxe; vocal solo by Miss Mattie Wood, all of which were received with applause by the multitude.

Office and ice cream were served during the evening, and many articles of the tables were disposed of. Mr. M. K. Pratt became the possessor of a beautiful quilt which was disposed of by number, this enterprise being in private hands.

Notes by the Way.

W. Webster Pope, a resident of this place, in company with Phillip Havelin and H. J. Smith, of South Weymouth, who have been in the line of business in California and who wish their pleasant journey. Mr. Pope, an old acquaintance of ours, has the past year or more suffered much from a terrible complaint, and for his health only he has left a large family to which he is a devoted father.

Single gentlemen, of good habits, who desire an excellent boarding place, will find an advertisement in our paper of "Boarders Wanted."

Rev. P. A. Nonhe, late pastor of the Baptist church, now settled at Fort Ligon, Conn., lives in the same house as the Rev. T. D. Robinson, a former pastor of the M. E. Society of East Weymouth.

At a regular meeting of Gen. Putnam Engine Co., held at their hall last Thursday evening, it was voted to hold their annual meeting at Town Hall Friday evening, Jan. 12th, 1883.

Don't forget Prof. Chalk's dancing school at Lincoln Hall, on next Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock.

Business Change. The Weymouth Drug Store has changed hands, passing from Dr. N. D. Putney to Dr. B. F. Smith, of Dedham. We deeply regret the loss of so excellent and genial a gentleman, although Mr. Putney was not engaged in the business, and his departure is a loss to the community.

Our venerable friend and poet, Mr. F. M. Arlington, is in good health for a person so far advanced in years. On Christmas day he will celebrate his 63rd birthday.

Personal. Mrs. T. D. Robinson, who has received a telegram announcing that his father, residing in western New York, has received a stroke of paralysis. The latest intelligence was that he was helpless though in full possession of his mind, and is now in a precarious condition.

Rev. Mr. Titus, a son of the late Rev. Mr. Titus, who was a member of the board of selectmen, in 1875 he graduated with honor from the Mass. Coll. of Pharmacy, and has been in business on his own account for twelve years, and is a thorough druggist.

Concept. The grand concert by the W. J. D. Leavitt Concert Company, at Union Church, last Wednesday evening, was a most artistic and pleasing musical entertainment. The repertoire of the artists announced ensures to the public a performance gratifying to all who have good musical taste.

What Women should Fear. Dr. J. W. French, who has been a member of the board of selectmen, in 1875 he graduated with honor from the Mass. Coll. of Pharmacy, and has been in business on his own account for twelve years, and is a thorough druggist.

Grand Army Notes. Members of Reynolds Post, who intended to attend the fair at Quincy next Monday evening, will meet at Lincoln square. Coaches leave at 6:30 o'clock. It is hoped that all who can will go on hand. Leave South Weymouth at 6:30, and arrive at Quincy at 7:30.

EAST WEYMOUTH.

In our issue of this week will be found a notice of a petition which will be made to the next general court for an act of incorporation for the purpose of introducing pure water into this village, and water to be taken from the Hingham Water Co. This we believe to be a move in the right direction. Our village is but poorly supplied with pure water, and in some localities no water at all. As a dozen families are dependent upon the well of water which is situated in the village, while in some of the houses there are no water at all, it is not surprising that the project should succeed our people would have an abundant supply of pure water, and should the town adopt the Hingham Water Co. it would save the expense of purchasing a steam engine, which must come sooner or later, and the diminution of a large fire department, which at the best is a perpetual drain upon the town treasury. We might dwell upon the advantages to be derived from a water supply, but every property holder and every citizen who has the interests of the community at heart, can readily see the great benefit which would accrue both to families and manufacturers. We know we voice the sentiment of the public when we say that the movement is an important one, and we earnestly urge that it be carried out to its successful conclusion, and we hope it will meet with encouragement and ultimate success.

Mr. Charles N. Richards is now able to step on his foot after being out of it for some time, and we hope it will meet with encouragement and ultimate success.

Agro Catholic fair is to be held at the Landing in March.

Mr. Henry Loxe has gone into the mill business.

The families of L. H. Loxe and M. C. Smith are to have Christmas trees at their homes on Christmas.

Mr. George Wright and Mrs. Annan Peterson are very sick and doubt as expressed about their recovery.

Mr. James Casey's new house, on Broad street, is now under construction.

Mr. Frank Robins has moved from Lincoln to the Police Department, corner Hiram and North streets.

Call at VANDERBILT, Washington square, and see the new and large stock of Toys, Musical Boxes, Dolls, and beautiful Christmas goods that Santa Claus has brought for your inspection, at low prices.

The members of Doherty Sewing Society are requested to meet with Mrs. J. E. Hunt, on Thursday, Dec. 14th, at 8 o'clock.

Single gentlemen, of good habits, who desire an excellent boarding place, will find an advertisement in our paper of "Boarders Wanted."

Rev. P. A. Nonhe, late pastor of the Baptist church, now settled at Fort Ligon, Conn., lives in the same house as the Rev. T. D. Robinson, a former pastor of the M. E. Society of East Weymouth.

At a regular meeting of Gen. Putnam Engine Co., held at their hall last Thursday evening, it was voted to hold their annual meeting at Town Hall Friday evening, Jan. 12th, 1883.

Don't forget Prof. Chalk's dancing school at Lincoln Hall, on next Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock.

Business Change. The Weymouth Drug Store has changed hands, passing from Dr. N. D. Putney to Dr. B. F. Smith, of Dedham. We deeply regret the loss of so excellent and genial a gentleman, although Mr. Putney was not engaged in the business, and his departure is a loss to the community.

Our venerable friend and poet, Mr. F. M. Arlington, is in good health for a person so far advanced in years. On Christmas day he will celebrate his 63rd birthday.

Personal. Mrs. T. D. Robinson, who has received a telegram announcing that his father, residing in western New York, has received a stroke of paralysis. The latest intelligence was that he was helpless though in full possession of his mind, and is now in a precarious condition.

Rev. Mr. Titus, a son of the late Rev. Mr. Titus, who was a member of the board of selectmen, in 1875 he graduated with honor from the Mass. Coll. of Pharmacy, and has been in business on his own account for twelve years, and is a thorough druggist.

Concept. The grand concert by the W. J. D. Leavitt Concert Company, at Union Church, last Wednesday evening, was a most artistic and pleasing musical entertainment. The repertoire of the artists announced ensures to the public a performance gratifying to all who have good musical taste.

What Women should Fear. Dr. J. W. French, who has been a member of the board of selectmen, in 1875 he graduated with honor from the Mass. Coll. of Pharmacy, and has been in business on his own account for twelve years, and is a thorough druggist.

Grand Army Notes. Members of Reynolds Post, who intended to attend the fair at Quincy next Monday evening, will meet at Lincoln square. Coaches leave at 6:30 o'clock. It is hoped that all who can will go on hand. Leave South Weymouth at 6:30, and arrive at Quincy at Hingham National Bank.

At a meeting of the directors of the Hingham National Bank, held at their banking rooms last Thursday, it was resolved to offer the position of the cashier

made vacant by the resignation of Mr.

J. S. Tibbitts, to Mr. Frank R. Hilliard,

of Georgetown, Mass., who has been for some years clerk in the Georgetown

National Bank. At the time of our writing Mr. Hilliard had not accepted the position. We know nothing of his qualifications for the place, but presume that the directors of the bank are well advised in their selection. It is to be seen in our town. It is necessary for us to mention his stock of holiday goods; all will want to see his display after witnessing which they will pay attention to his stock of dry and fancy goods.

Our business houses

The holiday season is now at hand and most of our dealers have made their preparations to meet the demands that will be made upon them

by those who have been wise in experience, do not look away their time and their money in going to the city

when they can save half by patronizing

our local dealers.

We take pleasure in calling attention to the stock of Mr. Luther A. Douglas, whose advertisement will be found in another column. Mr. D. has the latest completeness here and the finest one.

We know from experience that every thing in his line, overcoats, suits, under clothing, collars, cuffs, neckties, gloves, hats and trunks is offered at as great quantities and at reasonable prices as can be bought for anywhere, and we recommend our friends all along the shore who desire to buy for themselves or to make useful gifts to their friends to call on Mr. Douglas' elegant stock of goods.

Another very interesting temperance

meeting was held in Abbot's

Hall last Sunday evening, which was well attended. Excellent remarks were course is one of lectures, readings, concerts and dramatic entertainments.

NORTH SCITUATE.

Within a comparatively short time

runners have been going the rounds to the effect that a public library was soon to be established in this village.

But for reasons unknown to us no steps have yet been taken. That we are greatly in need of a library cannot be denied, and why procrastinate longer?

Let us begin at the bottom and gradually work up. A small library is better than none. Ralph Waldo Emerson has justly remarked, "Consider what you have in the smallest closet library. A company of the wisest and wisest men could be picked out of all civil communities, in a thousand years, have set in the result of their learning and wisdom."

Messrs. John H. Pierce, Charles F.

Seaverns and Charles T. Pierce, by invitation, paid a visit last week to the village, and through the courtesy of Mr. Smith, were shown over the school, the church and the village generally, and were much pleased with the results of their inspection.

Mr. George H. Gamett, of Milton, was in town last week looking after the interest of his estate.

the Baptist society gave an interesting
